

Churchwide Book Study

Beginning the week of September 6 through Christmas Day, we will be reading the gospel of Luke together. By only taking a chapter or two each week we'll be able to linger over each short section of the weekly passage.

In addition to reading from your Bible, an accompanying guide is highly recommended but not necessary. Luke for Everyone by N. T. Wright, a noted New Testament scholar, includes his own translation of the entire text followed by a highly readable discussion after each short passage with background information, useful explanations and suggestions, and thoughts as to how the text can be relevant to our lives today.

Copies are available in regular and large print from Amazon, Christianbook, and other sellers.

The calendar of readings is listed below, and beginning September 9, Brian and Holly will offer a reflection from the week's reading as part of a new online Wednesday evening Prayer and Eucharist service.
